RE: ROLLS-ROYCE AND BENTLEY MOTOR CARS
SUITABLE SECURING WHEN TRANSPORTING VEHICLES

Transporting the car

The ideal and simplest method of securing the car for transportation, is by strapping all the wheels to the carrier, using strong webbing straps, not chains.

This method securely fastens the car without damage and prevents undue strain on any of the suspension or body components. However, the car is still free to move on its own suspension system. Therefore, it is important to ensure that there is sufficient clearance all around the car to accommodate this movement.

For winching a vehicle onto a flatbed carrier, slings/chains around the front lower triangle levers should be used if necessary.

NOTE: Never use any other components beneath the car other than those specified.
