Dear Jan:

I haven't had a chance to write you earlier but I do have your request on record to be called when we have a selection of cars for immediate sale. As I explained earlier, because of the shipping strike, factory holidays, etc., we currently do not have any cars that we can offer to you.

We have submitted the order for Mr. Richard Bojalad but we have not received the signed Overseas Delivery Purchase Order form with the deposit. Please advise me of the status of this order.

Very truly yours,

RE:

LRB-15056 - RICHARD BOJALAD

This order was originally placed by Ascot for overseas delivery October 31, 1972. Because the order was submitted in August the factory could not accommodate this order in the 1972 programme and therefore carried it over into 1973. On October 3rd I wrote to Jan Duchoslav requesting the customer's decision and as yet we have not received a reply. Please chase him up and get a decision one way or the other.

Dear Jan:

RE: RXC-8069 - RICHARD BOJALAD

I have received your Overseas Delivery Purchase Order form for the above customer and coincidentally a message from the factory that they are still awaiting the CHAMPAGNE upholstery for this car and, therefore, it will be too late to build it as a 1972. If the customer still wants this car it will be built as a 1975 model and I would estimate completion at this time around April of next year. Please let me know the customer's decision. If he still wants the car we will require a 10% deposit.

Very truly yours, ROLLS-ROYCE, INC.

Mr. Richard Bojalad, 232 Tech Road, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, USA.

31st January, 1973.

Dear Sir,

Re: Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow Chassis number LRB 15056

Before your forthcoming visit to this country to take delivery of your new motor car there are certain customs and insurance formalities to be observed in this connection. Therefore your help with the following points would be appreciated.

Customs Notice 77M describing the conditions under which cars are delivered free of Purchase Tax in this country is enclosed. Will you please read this document carefully and then complete in detail the application form, which should be witnessed and returned to this office for submission to the Authorities for approval. Your dates of arrival and departure must be given, but may be approximate.

From the time that the car is delivered to you in this country it must be fully covered by insurance. To this end your broker will need to know that the chassis number of your car is LRB 15056, the engine number 15056 and the registration number OBY 227L. When arranging this insurance we suggest you take into account the 25% British Purchase Tax when estimating the value of the car and also the fact that unlimited third party liability is a legal requirement here.

Cars built for ultimate use in the United States of America must now conform to the very strict Federal Aafety Regulations governing the design of motor cars. Therefore before you attempt to have any non-standard items fitted during your stay in this country we would urge you to contact us in order that we can arrange conformity, otherwise anything fitted that is contrary to the Regulations will have to be removed before the car can be imported into the United States of America.

On Friday last our dealer, Ascot Motors, called to inquire as to the whereabouts of LRB-15056. Their customer for this car, Mr. Bojalad, told them Rolls-Royce Motors Limited gave him the name of the vessel on which the car was shipped, its estimated arrival time and therefore he knew the car was in the USA and wanted to kn w when it would be delivered to him.

Originally this car was for overseas delivery but because Mr. Bojalad could not go to the UK the order was changed to a USA delivery. All cars for USA delivery are under our direct control and as such we are the only ones who can give out information concerning its status, whereabouts, etc.

Placing information of this kind in the hands of one of our dealers or customers is a serious breach of good business practice and every step must be taken to insure it does not happen again.

I would appreciate very much if you would issue the necessary instructions to all parties concerned at both Crewe and Conduit Street.

Thank you for your memo re Mr. Bojalad for which we appologise for the delay in replying.

I must first say that it was I who told Mr. Bojalad the information re the shipment of LRB.15056, but must stress that it was only done due to the fact that:

- a) Mr. Bojalad made a person to person phone call from his home address to me.
- b) He said that he had been in touch with Rolls-Royce Inc. Paramus, but had not received any information and been given my name as the person in the best position to give this information.
- c) Due to this car originally being an Overseas Delivery car, I did not see giving this information in any other way than providing a service with your blessing.

However as a result of your comments I can assure you that no such information will be given again in the future, but would like to point out, that if a customer, with whom I have had no dealing telephones specifically me from the States, it does put me in a rather embarrassing position.

RE: LRB-15056 - MR. BOJALAD

Thank you for your memorandum of 24.4.73. Your information coupled with what we now know about Mr. Bojalad answers to our satisfaction the question as to how this customer obtained shipping information about his car.

It is our policy at RR, Inc. not to give out the names of any people at Crewe except if a customer is inquiring about certain details relating to an overseas delivery order. Mr. Bojalad evidentally told someone at Paramus that his order was an overseas delivery and he was seeking information on shipping details and would need to know the name of the person at Crewe to contact about his car. I can appreciate the position you are in when someone calls directly from the USA and I can't fault your action with respect to Mr. Bojalad. We on our part will do everything possible to insure that your name is not devulged to anyone seeking information about shipping details.
